

We are witnessing a fast-paced change in our business scenario where we are facing a paradigm shift in the way we do business; interact with our clients and the whole business ecosystem in general. Being up-to-date on current business practice and shift in the global technology landscape is mandatory to survive and to excel. Reskilling and upskilling are the new normal in the corporate world. Targeted training to employees at all levels has become a necessity to meet new challenges.

Over these last 5 years, we have been witnessing the gap between the academia and the industry only widening with no viable immediate solution. Adoption of automation and AI has made many entry-level job opportunities decrease and organizations are looking for students with additional skills / knowledge / awareness before they are hired. Students thus need a number of skill bridge programs those will enhance their employability and provide a better chance for being hired out of college.

Strategic Inflection Solutions addresses these training requirements in both the corporate and the academic world. With a team of experienced trainers, we deliver training in a number of formats, including one-day lecture and 2 to 5 day workshops and MDP. All training programs and workshops are interactive with number of participatory exercises. We strongly believe in experiential learning. Often the examples are tailored to address the client business domains.

Some of the training programs and workshops include:

Corporate Training programs

- Strategy building and implementation road map
- Strategic analysis
- Decision making - Qualitative and quantitative
- Business model development & business canvas
- Digital business transformation – A primer
- Commercial orientation for technical teams
- People analytics
- Customer journey analysis and analytics
- Marketing analytics

Employability bridge training

- Industry and sectoral overview and deep dive programs – Retail, healthcare, finance and technology
- Decision science
- Big data and analytics
- Strategic marketing
- Business trends in the digital world [Industry 4.0]
- Interview preparation and participation

Mr. Ramanathan is an excellent leadership and business trainer & coach. I attended a series of training sessions by him and found him to be jovial, knowledgeable and an expert in imparting knowledge. His style of teaching, friendly approach, the participative exercises and practical insights make his training relevant and easy to assimilate and recall. I look forward to more training from him

Dv. G. M.(Mech.); Finolex Industries Ltd.

 Ravi Ramanathan
 +91 985 057 7390
ramanathan@strategicinflection.com

Select clients list:

Axa Business Services Piramal Industries Finolex Industries Ltd L&T Advanced Technologies Money Plant Consulting
 SBS group Colleges Indira group of colleges Management Institute of Leadership & Excellence Somaiya Institute of management & Research